

KinderMourn

Books Dealing with Loss and Grief

Written For Preschool Children

A Terrible Thing Happened	M. Holmes
A Quilt for Elizabeth	B. Tiffault
Cat Heaven	Cynthia Rylant
Cry, Heart, But Never Break	Glenn Ringtved
Dog Heaven	Cynthia Rylant
Everett Anderson's Goodbye	Lucille Clifton
Finn's Feather	Rachel Noble
Gentle Willow	J. Mills
Geranium Morning	E. Sandy Powell
It's Okay to Cry	L.C. Anderson
Lifetimes	R. Ingpen & B. Mellonie
Lost and Found: Remembering a Sister	Ellen Yeomans
Lost in the Clouds	Tom Tinn-Disbury
Sad Isn't Bad	M. Mundy
Saying Goodbye to Daddy	Judith Vigna
The Dead Bird	M.W. Brown
The Happy Funeral	E. Bunting
The Invisible String	P. Karst
The Next Place	Warren Hanson
When Dinosaurs Die	Laurie Kransy Brown
While We Can't Hug	Eoin McLaughlin

Written For Adults Supporting Children

Parent's Guide to Raising Grieving Children	P. Silverman and M. Kelly
The Grieving Child	Helen Fitzgerald*
Talking about Death to Children: A Dialogue	Earl Grollman
How it feels when a parent dies	Jill Drementz
Keys to Helping Children Deal with Death & Grief	Joy Johnson
Why do people die?	Cynthia MacGregor

*This author has additionally written a book entitled: The Grieving Teen

These books can be found at libraries, bookstores, and online. Please also know that KinderMourn has a lending library available for use by anyone in the community, and it contains many of these titles. It is not necessary to be a KinderMourn client to borrow books.